Business: Storytelling Platform, Website and Mobile Application

Suhee Lee, the CEO of Joara, is a successful entrepreneur who created a new genre of the content-sharing platform in Korea. He started his first company in 2002 with a small group of writers; now, it is a $300M company. Nowadays, he focuses on tackling the global market to offer stories in many languages. The global platform is multiplying by increasing daily active users every day.

MAIN PRODUCT

[Service Product]

AJoara.com is the first Youtube-like storytelling platform. We offer free stories in Romance, Fantasy, Fanfiction, LBGTQ+, etc... on our website and mobile application. It also gives writers equal opportunity to become bestselling authors at any given time. So I invite you to experience and read one of our most popular stories: "Desire of Winter."
